ABOUT GEORGE KING

George King grew up with a passion for motorsport, his father being a racing driver himself in the 1990's saw George follow in his father's footsteps & he entered his first car race in October 2020. With no prior racing experience or any karting experience to his name George quickly gained the respect of his racing peers.

Essex born, George acclimatised quickly, joining the James Winslow Racing training programme he amassed 17 Victories, 43 podiums, 16 pole positions, 19 fastest laps and 7 lap records in 67 races & won his first championship title. All this in just 2 and half seasons of racing in, Britain, Europe (France, Belgium, Germany, Italy, Spain & Portugal) and also a season in the UAE at Dubai & Abu Dhabi.

In 2023, George stepped up to LMP3, winning his debut race at Paul Ricard Circuit and becoming the LMP3 champion for the 2023 season. George also competed in his second season of the LMP4 - Ligier European Series, joining championship winning team Virage and become vice champions.

In 2025 George joined Mercedes AMG team Tigani Motorsports, driving their Mercedes AMG GT3 Evo. Competing in the prestigious GT World Challenge Australia, finishing 6th overall & consistently being one of the fastest drivers at each event.

CAREER GOALS/AMBITIONS

George King is an enthusiastic and ambitious young racing driver with sights firmly set on the highest echelons of Motorsport. Having gone against the grain and eschewed karting and single-seaters with the singular aim of making it to F1, he has nevertheless devoted himself to reaching the upper echelons of the sport, especially in sportscars.

From starting out in a humble Mazda MX-5, he has nurtured the ambition of becoming a professional driver representing a major manufacturer in the biggest endurance races on the planet, with the ultimate goal of taking that manufacturer to the top step of the podium at the Le Mans 24 Hours.

To that end, George is plying his trade — successfully — in both single-make and open-field sports prototype competitions around Europe. He has a dedicated routine designed to hone both his cockpit skills and overall fitness, including daily physical workouts and regular simulator training sessions.

Along with his management team, George aims to project a professional approach to his career, one which will hopefully accelerate his route to the very top — and make everyone aware of his ability.

James is excited to be working with George as he continues to prosper as a talented and ambitious professional racing driver with the potential to rise up the ranks and realise the ultimate goal of winning championships.
